To whomever this may concern,

I am writing to express my keen interest in the posted front-end job position. I believe that the job's responsibilities resonate with both my skills(HTML, CSS, Javascript, React, Figma, Tailwindcss) and aspirations(working remotely, web-based programming). My experience working on freelance and personal projects has equipped me with the ability to work independently and collaboratively in a team setting, while my experience as a lead developer and study abroad student has helped me develop communication skills that I think will be useful for this position.

I am confident that my problem solving skills will allow me to learn whatever is needed for the job, and my casual familiarity with front-end web development and UI design aligns with the preferred skills outlined in the job description.

I look forward to discussing how my skills align with the needs of the job position and work hours in detail if needed. For more information about my qualifications and expertise, please view my resume or portfolio(<https://marcmiango.netlify.app/>)

Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,

Marc Miango
